Hurricane Ian Recovery

Nov. 28, 2022

Disaster Recovery Centers Reopen

All Disaster Recovery Centers in Florida reopen at regular hours Monday, Nov. 28.

Mitigation Funds to Help Rebuild Stronger

Homeowners who are eligible for Individuals and Households Program assistance may receive additional mitigation funds from FEMA to prevent future disaster. Specific mitigation measures may include:

- Roof repair to withstand higher winds and help prevent water infiltration.
- Elevating a water heater or furnace to avoid future flood damage.
- Elevating or moving an electrical panel to avoid future flood damage.

FEMA Direct Lease

FEMA is seeking information from property management companies with ready-for-occupancy residential or rental properties in Florida coastal communities impacted by Hurricane Ian. Interested property owner or management companies must provide responses and comments no later than Nov. 30 to FEMA-DR4673FL-DL@fema.dhs.gov. The email subject line should read: RFI #70FBR423I00000002. More information can be found at SAM.gov.

By the Numbers

- $2.97 billion in federal grants, disaster loans and flood insurance payments
 - $769 million in FEMA Individual Assistance approved for 356,014 households
 - $1.049 billion in U.S. Small Business Administration disaster loans approved
 - 44,700 National Flood Insurance Program claims filed in Florida: $793 million paid
 - $358 million in FEMA Public Assistance approved for emergency response costs
- 1,807 households (4,430 members) checked into hotel rooms under FEMA's Transitional Sheltering Assistance for households
- 20,119 Blue Roofs installed by U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (mission completed)

Deadline to Apply for FEMA Assistance Extended to Jan. 12

At the request of the State of Florida, FEMA has extended the deadline for Hurricane lan survivors to apply for assistance to Jan. 12, 2023. Homeowners and renters in the following counties can apply: Brevard, Charlotte, Collier, DeSoto, Flagler, Glades, Hardee, Hendry, Highlands, Hillsborough, Lake, Lee, Manatee, Monroe, Okeechobee, Orange, Osceola, Palm Beach, Pasco, Pinellas, Polk, Putnam, Sarasota, Seminole, St. Johns and Volusia counties.

Derelict Vessel Waiver Process

If your boat is unsalvageable after Hurricane lan, consider releasing ownership through the vessel waiver process. This allows for the removal and destruction of the vessel for no cost. Since many residents are still assessing damages, the waiver acceptance deadline has been extended from Nov. 15 through the end of the year. Contact the Florida Fish and Wildlife Hurricane Ian Vessel Hotline at 850-488-5600 for more information.

SBA Disaster Assistance Loan

The U.S. Small Business Administration has approved more than $1 billion in federal disaster loans to survivors impacted by Hurricane Ian. SBA disaster loans are the largest source of federal disaster recovery funds for survivors to pay for repair or replacement costs not fully compensated by insurance or other compensation. SBA offers longterm, low-interest disaster loans to businesses of all sizes, private nonprofit organizations, as well as homeowners and renters.

The deadline to apply for physical disaster loans from the U.S. Small Business Administration has been extended to Jan. 12.

Protect from Identity Theft

If a FEMA inspector visits your home but you have not applied for FEMA assistance, or if you receive a letter from FEMA without submitting your FEMA application, you may be a victim of identity theft. If so, please inform the FEMA inspector or call FEMA Helpline at 800-621-3362 to stop the application process. If you suspect identity theft, please visit Identity Theft | FTC Consumer Information or IdentityTheft.gov.

Hurricane Nicole

Residents in areas affected by Hurricane Nicole should follow directions from local authorities concerning cleanup and safety after the storm. If you had damage from Hurricane Nicole, contact your insurance company, take pictures of the damage, begin clean-up, and save your receipts. Hurricane Nicole has not received a major disaster declaration at this time, and FEMA is not accepting applications for assistance related to Nicole. If you need assistance for loss resulting from Nicole, you can contact community-based services such as 211, the Salvation Army, Catholic Charities and others. For emergency information regarding Nicole, visit floridadisaster.org/info/nicole.

Substantial Damage Determinations

Local community officials are required to inspect disaster-damaged structures in Special Flood Hazard Areas to meet the requirements of the Florida Building Code and the community's floodplain management regulations. If the cost of repairing the structure to its condition before Hurricane Ian is 50 percent or more of its pre-disaster market value, the house or building is considered "substantially damaged." FEMA does not make substantial damage determinations; the determination is made by a community's building official or floodplain manager. Repairing a structure in a floodplain requires a permit. Survivors have options to bring the structure into compliance with the Florida Building Code and the community's floodplain management regulations.

Temporary Housing for Hurricane Ian Survivors

FEMA is providing grants for basic repairs to homes damaged by the storm, rental assistance for those who can't remain in their homes and hotel stays for survivors who can't find a place to rent. This support is available in all 26 counties approved for FEMA Individual Assistance.

In Charlotte, Collier, DeSoto, Hardee, Lee and Sarasota counties, FEMA is providing Direct Temporary Housing Assistance. This includes direct lease of residential properties, repair of existing vacant multi-family properties for use by survivors, and travel trailers or manufactured housing units. It takes time to transport, permit, install and inspect these temporary housing units.

FEMA is Hiring

FEMA is conducting local hiring for more than 300 jobs in Brandon, Fort Myers, Kissimmee, Orlando and Sarasota. The agency is seeking people with experience in customer service, logistics, environmental protection, engineering, emergency management and other job categories. These positions are full-time, 120-day appointments that may be extended depending on operational needs. How to apply: Apply online through USAJobs.gov.

Flood Insurance Policyholders Given Additional Time to Renew

National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) policyholders in Florida affected by Hurricane Ian can renew their recently expired policies without the consequence of a lapse in coverage. The renewal extension applies to policyholders whose flood insurance policy expiration was between Aug. 25 and Oct. 23, 2022. FEMA has also extended the proof of loss requirement for Florida flood insurance policyholders who experienced flood damage from Hurricane lan from 60 to 365 days. Contact your insurance agent or insurance company to discuss your policy. If you do not have this information, call the NFIP at 877-336-2627.

Public Assistance for Houses of Worship

Florida houses of worship and other private nonprofit organizations may be eligible for FEMA assistance to help pay for emergency protective measures, debris removal and restoration of facilities damaged by Hurricane lan. Houses of worship should contact their county emergency management office for more information on how to submit a FEMA request for Public Assistance.

U.S. Small Business Administration

Long-term, low-interest disaster loans for homeowners, renters, businesses and nonprofit organizations from the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) are available to cover losses not fully compensated by insurance and other sources. Apply online using the Electronic Loan Application (ELA) via the SBA's secure website at disasterloanassistance.sba.gov/ela/s/. Disaster loan information and application forms can also be obtained by calling the SBA's Customer Service Center at 800-659-2955. Business Recovery Centers are operating in impacted areas. Details at floridadisaster.org/info/.
