Preferred Position Planning & Zoning Board

Qualifications for This Position _____

I have over 12 years of professional experience in the areas of landscape architecture, land use planning, site planning, and land development in Southwest Florida.

Educational Background _____

Bachelor Degree in Landscape Architecture - Penn State University
Registered Landscape Architect in the State of Florida

Relevant Professional/Work Experience/Training _____

As Vice President and Director of Landscape Architecture & Planning at Waldrop Engineering and through my service on the EDRC, I have helped draft land development code regulations for the Estero community, and have also implemented these standards on numerous private projects within Estero. I am experienced in reviewing zoning and land use applications, applying the Comprehensive Plan and LDCs to the process, and understanding complex development issues involving legal, environmental, and transportation matters. Additionally, I have familiarity with land use planning and development matters in other Southwest Florida jurisdictions, including Collier, Lee and Sarasota Counties, and their respective municipalities.

Prior Community Service _____

I served on the Estero Design Review Committee since 2013. I have also served on the local board of the Urban Land Institute as the Young Leaders Co-Chair and Chair of the Technical Advisory Panel. I am also a former member of the Naples Gulfshore Rotary Club, and serve on the Architectural Review Board/Landscape Committee of the Rookery Pointe HOA.

What I hope to Achieve in this Position _____

Assist the Village Council in upholding the high quality of land use planning and development standards established by the Estero Community over the past 20+ years. I'm also very interested in being involved on the Planning & Zoning Board to assist in the review of Land Development Code standards that truly achieve the Council's intent of setting Estero apart from surrounding communities through carefully crafted design standards.

Qualifications for This Position _____

I have 39+ years dealing with land use issues on both the private and governmental sides of the issues. I have worked at all levels of government addressing urban and regional planning issues and problem resolution.

Educational Background _____

I have a MSP degree in Urban and Regional Planning with specialties in Comprehensive and Environmental Planning from Florida State University. I have a BA degree in Geography specializing in mapping and land use and spacial analyses from the University of Florida.

Relevant Professional/Work Experience/Training _____

For the past 13 years, I worked at the Southwest Florida Regional Planning Council. In that capacity, I was responsible for reviewing and presenting to the Council all City and County Comprehensive Plan amendments in Southwest Florida. In addition, I have worked on all the Developments of Regional Impact (DRI) that have been reviewed and approved in the region during that time period. For the past 3 years, until my retirement, I was the Director of Planning Services for the Regional Planning Council.

Prior Community Service _____

In the past, I have served on the Lee County Executive Regulatory Oversight Committee; I served as the Director of Design Design Review for Westinghouse Communities for Pelican Landing and Pelican Sound; and I served on the Pelican Landing Community Development District Board.

What I hope to Achieve in this Position _____

I hope that I can apply my historic knowledge of the area and my planning experience to requests to the Village concerning future development activities that will impact the living environment of the residents of the newest City in Florida. Growth in the Village is important for economic for the health, safety and welfare of the Village citizens, but that growth must be balanced and placed in the proper locations so that both the gray and green infrastructure systems can be maintained in a healthy and stable manner.

Qualifications for This Position

3 decades working in the Construction and development Industry—both residential and commercial, therefore highly cognizant of the impacts that mis-planned development can have on quality of life in a community. I grew up in the Southwest suburbs of Philadelphia (Mainline) -which are some of the best planned communities in the U.S.-green urban areas with ready access to rail transit, communities that are ecologically lush with old growth; both bike and walk friendly and no more than 20 minutes from schools, commercial and government services.

Educational Background

Masters in Environmental Law and Policy - Magna Cum Laude, Vermont Law School
Bachelor of Arts Villanova University- Cum Laude -Communications. Extensive course work in Construction and Project Management taken at Temple University and Spring Garden College.

Relevant Professional/Work Experience/Training

My experience in the construction and development industry has fully informed my knowledge of the administrative and legal processes necessary for growth to occur. Working on development projects in many different growing locales across the country from Charlotte, N.C. to Orlando, FL to the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex area has allowed me to observe and study different planning, zoning and development patterns and how these decisions have made tremendous impact on the basic livability, transportation accessibility and quality of a community. My work experiences have imprinted me with this philosophy: Land use planning and zoning is at the very heart of resource development and sustainable growth. If development is truly going to serve the community it is sited in (and not just the subjective economic goals of the developer) it depends on deliberate and effective planning and zoning.

Prior Community Service _____

Board member Responsible Growth Management Coalition 2008 to present
Board member Calusa Group of the Sierra Club 2007-2013
Member Lee Public Voice
Member Estero Bay Agency for Bay Management

What I hope to Achieve in this Position _____

Engaging in planning indicates a willingness to make changes for the future to achieve a better use of human and natural resources. Effective planning must be forward looking but at the same time ensure that vital natural assets such as water quality and quantity and native and old-growth green spaces and wildlife habitat are respected and preserved. Planning involves far more than a survey and analysis of developments accomplished at a given point in time; it involves conscious and deliberate effort to guide the course of future events to help achieve desired objectives; it involves purposeful action by governments as well as an enlightened and dedicated citizenry.

What I hope to Achieve in this Position:

Working with the other members of the Estero Planning and Zoning Board, Estero Village Staff, the Estero City Council and other Estero advocates, I hope to assure Estero residents that the Village will grow responsibly by achieving an optimal balance between residential, commercial, retail and village interests. Good planning also requires that Village infrastructure keep pace with growth, and this will be another priority for me. We must strive to be "best in class" with Planning and Zoning.

ECCL has set a high bar with its development work for Estero, and the new Village must continue to pursue excellence in planning and zoning by initially using the Estero Community Plan that ECCL developed last year as its initial Comprehensive Plan. It sets effective standards for development and the Village must adhere to the plan as it reviews development proposals.

The Plan should also be periodically updated to reflect changing demographics, resident priorities, regional trends, infrastructure issues and other relevant planning factors,

Relevant Professional/Work Experience/Training

My experience in the construction and development industry has fully informed my knowledge of the administrative and legal processes necessary for growth to occur. Working on development projects in many different growing locales across the country from Charlotte, N.C. to Orlando, FL to the Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex area has allowed me to observe and study different planning, zoning and development decisions and how these decisions have made tremendous impact on the basic livability, transportation accessibility and quality of a community. My work experiences have imprinted me with this philosophy: Land use planning and zoning is at the very heart of resource development and sustainable growth. If development is truly going to serve the community it is sited in (and not just the subjective economic goals of the developer) it depends on deliberate and effective planning and zoning.

Prior Community Service _____

Board member Responsible Growth Management Coalition 2008 to present
Board member Calusa Group of the Sierra Club 2007-2013
Member Lee Public Voice
Member Estero Bay Agency for Bay Management

What I hope to Achieve in this Position _____

Engaging in planning indicates a willingness to make changes for the future to achieve a better use of human and natural resources. Effective planning must be forward looking but at the same time ensure that vital natural assets such as water quality and quantity and native and old-growth green spaces and wildlife habitat are respected and preserved. Planning involves far more than a survey and analysis of developments accomplished at a given point in time; it involves conscious and deliberate effort to guide the course of future events to help achieve desired objectives; it involves purposeful action by governments as well as an enlightened and dedicated citizenry.
